A Possible Island? 8 Long Duration Performances and The Abramovic Method

Date: 18 October - 11 November 2018

Location: Main gallery, 8th Floor

Joining the Bangkok Art Biennale 2018 this year includes “A Possible Island? 8 Long Duration Performances and The Abramovic Method; performing from 18 October – 11 November, 2018, at Bangkok Art and Culture Centre.

The Abramovic Method is a public participatory event, joining people in a communal experience to connect with oneself and with each other. Inside this quiet, non-discriminatory and non-hierarchical space, people are invited to participate in a number of exercises and to observe others as they participate. The method unites, and reunites, its participants through basic interactions, creating a space of mutual witnessing and encouraging a kind of collective vulnerability, a state of consciousness that human beings need in order to better coexist.

“Bangkok Art Biennale 2018” is a grand collaboration by Thai Beverage PLC, Bangkok Art and Culture Centre, and public and private sectors. The festival is expected to hold every two years by gathering more than 200 contemporary artworks of 75 artist worldwide from 34 countries under the theme “Beyond Bliss” allocated into 20 landmarks including Bangkok Art and Culture Centre, Temple of Reclining Buddha, Temple of Dawn, Temple of Iron Fence, East Asiatic Building, Bank of Thailand Learning Center, Mandarin Oriental Bangkok, The Peninsula Bangkok Hotel, O.P.Place, One Bangkok, Alliance Française de Bangkok, NaiLert Park Heritage Home, Central World, Central Embassy, Siam Discovery, Siam Paragon, The EmQuartier, Siam Center, Siam Square One and Theater of Indulgence.
